A self portrait of Geonn Davis. I sensualize my way in order to arrive at a point at which I can engage with this woman. I do this because I believe that we can only truly understand each other when we see ourselves as a whole.

Susanna Martin lovingly gazed down at her son. She had always been a strong advocate for her children and would do anything to ensure their safety and well-being. As they sat together, she couldn't help but reflect on all the years they had spent together. The joyous moments, the hardships they had overcome, and the love that had grown between them.

"I love you, Sus," her son said, "and I'm so grateful to have you in my life." Susanna smiled warmly, knowing that their bond was unbreakable.

Together, they continued to navigate the challenges of life, always holding each other close and never forgetting the importance of love and support.
