Roles of police, military change with society

The sweeping immigration reform bill currently before Congress may be in danger of not getting approved due to some member’s insistence that stricter border enforcement rules be included in any changes to the law. In these tough economic times — particularly in state budgets — this demand begs the question of how increased surveillance and border patrols will be paid for and just who will foot the bill, state or the federal government.

“The military’s role cannot be to carry on a war enforcement role,” he said. “The idea of SWAT teams was originally predicated on the notion of hostage rescues, and that’s something that the military has a specialty in.” However, the ‘war on drugs’ and other similar military training and police training.”

Dr. Matthew Petrelloci at his office.

Photo courtesy of Trish O’ness

The Rotary Peace Fellowship program will study at one of five Rotary Peace Centers in the U.S. or neighboring Canada. The centers, established in 2010, offer certificate and master’s programs in conflict prevention, resolution and management.

The fellowship program’s top goal is to develop peace leaders, said Dr. J. Rotarian Foundation and sponsored by the Rotary International.”

Madison County Board Chairman Alan J. Dunstan on a visit to St. Mary’s Catholic Church in Edwardsville on the last day of school to accept, on behalf of the county, a model of the Madison County Courthouse currently being constructed by the students in Mrs. Debbie Lippert’s class.

The students constructed the model as part of their studies on the history of Madison County. Dunstan said the model will be part of the exhibit opening at the beginning of the new building being turned over to the Madison County Historical Museum.

“The students did an excellent job,” he said. “I was amazed at the detail they put into the model.”

Dunstan said, “Impressively, I think this project by the W.C. Staley students is representative of the outstanding teaching by teachers and students in parochial and public schools throughout Madison County.”

“Building a scale model of the courthouse was a project to help educate the students about the history of Madison County, especially as the county celebrates its 200th anniversary,” Mrs. Cauck said.

Mrs. Cauck said constructing the courthouse model was a great learning tool for the students. “The students worked from the actual blueprints of the building.”

In addition, the project was turned to the students about the history of Madison County, especially as the county celebrates its 200th anniversary,” Mrs. Cauck said.

For the Intelligencer

Madison County Chairman Alan Dunstan accepts a model of the courthouse from students at St. Mary’s School.

Students create model of courthouse

Rotary seeks applicants for fellowship program

For the Intelligencer

 Rotary International is not accepting applications for its Rotary Peace Fellowships for 2014. District Governor Thomas M. Lippert has announced.

The Rotary Peace Fellowship is an educational program of Rotary.”

The Rotary Foundation and sponsored by the Rotary International.”

“Because of the C.A.D. they were able to share communications between the Madison County Sheriff’s Department and the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville for the call shortly they went down,” Terry McFarland told the Rotary Club. “The C.A.D. was one of the county’s 9-1-1 systems, so the fire service system has been essential to keep the county operational.”

The county purchased the Michigan-based New World System’s package that allows the county, for $6,000 a year, to ensure that communication is maintained. In December, for instance, the Sheriff’s Department renewed its contract for the C.A.D.

“We took the lead on it,” Dr. Glenn, Maryville and Granite City police departments are now being served by the system,” he added. “Because of the interoperability between us and Glenn, when the phone calls come in, we’re able to track the call in real-time and get the call information.”

members of the county’s Public Safety Committee on Tuesday. McFarland, a member of the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville, contacted Edwardsville Mayor Dr. Hal Patton and PFC Rich Walsh.

For the Intelligencer

You can contact the group or request assistance, contact the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville at 651-688.

Storm

Continued from Page 1

“Because of the C.A.D. they were able to share communications between the Madison County Sheriff’s Department and the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville for the call shortly they went down,” Terry McFarland told the Rotary Club. “The C.A.D. was one of the county’s 9-1-1 systems, so the fire service system has been essential to keep the county operational.”

The county purchased the Michigan-based New World System’s package that allows the county, for $6,000 a year, to ensure that communication is maintained. In December, for instance, the Sheriff’s Department renewed its contract for the C.A.D.

“We took the lead on it,” Dr. Glenn, Maryville and Granite City police departments are now being served by the system,” he added. “Because of the interoperability between us and Glenn, when the phone calls come in, we’re able to track the call in real-time and get the call information.”

members of the county’s Public Safety Committee on Tuesday. McFarland, a member of the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville, contacted Edwardsville Mayor Dr. Hal Patton and PFC Rich Walsh.

For the Intelligencer

Continued from Page 1

You can contact the group or request assistance, contact the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville at 651-688.

Storm

Continued from Page 1

“Because of the C.A.D. they were able to share communications between the Madison County Sheriff’s Department and the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville for the call shortly they went down,” Terry McFarland told the Rotary Club. “The C.A.D. was one of the county’s 9-1-1 systems, so the fire service system has been essential to keep the county operational.”

The county purchased the Michigan-based New World System’s package that allows the county, for $6,000 a year, to ensure that communication is maintained. In December, for instance, the Sheriff’s Department renewed its contract for the C.A.D.

“We took the lead on it,” Dr. Glenn, Maryville and Granite City police departments are now being served by the system,” he added. “Because of the interoperability between us and Glenn, when the phone calls come in, we’re able to track the call in real-time and get the call information.”

members of the county’s Public Safety Committee on Tuesday. McFarland, a member of the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville, contacted Edwardsville Mayor Dr. Hal Patton and PFC Rich Walsh.

For the Intelligencer

Continued from Page 1

You can contact the group or request assistance, contact the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville at 651-688.

Storm

Continued from Page 1

“Because of the C.A.D. they were able to share communications between the Madison County Sheriff’s Department and the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville for the call shortly they went down,” Terry McFarland told the Rotary Club. “The C.A.D. was one of the county’s 9-1-1 systems, so the fire service system has been essential to keep the county operational.”

The county purchased the Michigan-based New World System’s package that allows the county, for $6,000 a year, to ensure that communication is maintained. In December, for instance, the Sheriff’s Department renewed its contract for the C.A.D.

“We took the lead on it,” Dr. Glenn, Maryville and Granite City police departments are now being served by the system,” he added. “Because of the interoperability between us and Glenn, when the phone calls come in, we’re able to track the call in real-time and get the call information.”

members of the county’s Public Safety Committee on Tuesday. McFarland, a member of the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville, contacted Edwardsville Mayor Dr. Hal Patton and PFC Rich Walsh.

For the Intelligencer

Continued from Page 1

You can contact the group or request assistance, contact the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville at 651-688.

Storm

Continued from Page 1

“Because of the C.A.D. they were able to share communications between the Madison County Sheriff’s Department and the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville for the call shortly they went down,” Terry McFarland told the Rotary Club. “The C.A.D. was one of the county’s 9-1-1 systems, so the fire service system has been essential to keep the county operational.”

The county purchased the Michigan-based New World System’s package that allows the county, for $6,000 a year, to ensure that communication is maintained. In December, for instance, the Sheriff’s Department renewed its contract for the C.A.D.

“We took the lead on it,” Dr. Glenn, Maryville and Granite City police departments are now being served by the system,” he added. “Because of the interoperability between us and Glenn, when the phone calls come in, we’re able to track the call in real-time and get the call information.”

members of the county’s Public Safety Committee on Tuesday. McFarland, a member of the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville, contacted Edwardsville Mayor Dr. Hal Patton and PFC Rich Walsh.

For the Intelligencer

Continued from Page 1

You can contact the group or request assistance, contact the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville at 651-688.

Storm

Continued from Page 1

“Because of the C.A.D. they were able to share communications between the Madison County Sheriff’s Department and the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville for the call shortly they went down,” Terry McFarland told the Rotary Club. “The C.A.D. was one of the county’s 9-1-1 systems, so the fire service system has been essential to keep the county operational.”

The county purchased the Michigan-based New World System’s package that allows the county, for $6,000 a year, to ensure that communication is maintained. In December, for instance, the Sheriff’s Department renewed its contract for the C.A.D.

“We took the lead on it,” Dr. Glenn, Maryville and Granite City police departments are now being served by the system,” he added. “Because of the interoperability between us and Glenn, when the phone calls come in, we’re able to track the call in real-time and get the call information.”

members of the county’s Public Safety Committee on Tuesday. McFarland, a member of the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville, contacted Edwardsville Mayor Dr. Hal Patton and PFC Rich Walsh.

For the Intelligencer

Continued from Page 1

You can contact the group or request assistance, contact the First Baptist Church of Edwardsville at 651-688.