Moody's paints grim picture for higher education

Looking for lookers

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved Rich Walker as vice chancellor for administration, which will put him in charge of the Edwardsville campus during its regular, scheduled meeting on the Carbondale campus.

Walker stepped into the role of interim vice chancellor for administration when former Chancellor Kent Napoléon retired in May 2016. Prior to serving in that role, he was provost at Saint Mary's University of Minnesota.

Walker has served in many leadership roles at SIU, including the provost role, which will be vacant when he steps into it. He also has a master's degree in finance from the University of New Mexico.

Walker earned his master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a bachelor's degree from Indiana State University.

Walker was approved as SIUE's new VCA

Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr.

Letters from Academia

Walker

For the Intelligence

The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"We looked at his drawings of Picasso, Matisse, van Gogh, and Rembrandt as well as others. Different movements and art themes. "They have to have 10 minutes to teach me how to

Children, parents and grandparents make one last pass over the grounds Sunday afternoon at the Edwardsville Knights of Columbus, 3210 S. Broadway, before deciding what it is called "indoo

Village

Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr. is a writer and college professor. He is interested in higher education. You can contact him through his website at http://www.romerojr.com.

Walker approved as SIUE’s new VCA

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved Rich Walker as vice chancellor for administration, which will put him in charge of the Edwardsville campus during its regular, scheduled meeting on the Carbondale campus.

Walker stepped into the role of interim vice chancellor for administration when former Chancellor Kent Napoléon retired in May 2016. Prior to serving in that role, he was provost at Saint Mary's University of Minnesota.

Walker has served in many leadership roles at SIU, including the provost role, which will be vacant when he steps into it. He also has a master's degree in finance from the University of New Mexico.

Walker earned his master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a bachelor's degree from Indiana State University.

Walker was approved as SIUE's new VCA

The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"We looked at his drawings of Picasso, Matisse, van Gogh, and Rembrandt as well as others. Different movements and art themes. "They have to have 10 minutes to teach me how to

Children, parents and grandparents make one last pass over the grounds Sunday afternoon at the Edwardsville Knights of Columbus, 3210 S. Broadway, before deciding what it is called "indoo

Village

Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr. is a writer and college professor. He is interested in higher education. You can contact him through his website at http://www.romerojr.com.

Walker approved as SIUE’s new VCA

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved Rich Walker as vice chancellor for administration, which will put him in charge of the Edwardsville campus during its regular, scheduled meeting on the Carbondale campus.

Walker stepped into the role of interim vice chancellor for administration when former Chancellor Kent Napoléon retired in May 2016. Prior to serving in that role, he was provost at Saint Mary's University of Minnesota.

Walker has served in many leadership roles at SIU, including the provost role, which will be vacant when he steps into it. He also has a master's degree in finance from the University of New Mexico.

Walker earned his master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a bachelor's degree from Indiana State University.

Walker was approved as SIUE's new VCA

The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"We looked at his drawings of Picasso, Matisse, van Gogh, and Rembrandt as well as others. Different movements and art themes. "They have to have 10 minutes to teach me how to

Children, parents and grandparents make one last pass over the grounds Sunday afternoon at the Edwardsville Knights of Columbus, 3210 S. Broadway, before deciding what it is called "indoo

Village

Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr. is a writer and college professor. He is interested in higher education. You can contact him through his website at http://www.romerojr.com.

Walker approved as SIUE’s new VCA

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved Rich Walker as vice chancellor for administration, which will put him in charge of the Edwardsville campus during its regular, scheduled meeting on the Carbondale campus.

Walker stepped into the role of interim vice chancellor for administration when former Chancellor Kent Napoléon retired in May 2016. Prior to serving in that role, he was provost at Saint Mary's University of Minnesota.

Walker has served in many leadership roles at SIU, including the provost role, which will be vacant when he steps into it. He also has a master's degree in finance from the University of New Mexico.

Walker earned his master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a bachelor's degree from Indiana State University.

Walker was approved as SIUE's new VCA

The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"The administration will provide frequent progress reports on the updates needed as well as progress being made toward achieving a balanced budget and to dramatically improve transparency and financial capability," Andre said. "And to those constituents, she also said thank you.

"We looked at his drawings of Picasso, Matisse, van Gogh, and Rembrandt as well as others. Different movements and art themes. "They have to have 10 minutes to teach me how to

Children, parents and grandparents make one last pass over the grounds Sunday afternoon at the Edwardsville Knights of Columbus, 3210 S. Broadway, before deciding what it is called "indoo

Village

Dr. Aldemaro Romero Jr. is a writer and college professor. He is interested in higher education. You can contact him through his website at http://www.romerojr.com.

Walker approved as SIUE’s new VCA

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees approved Rich Walker as vice chancellor for administration, which will put him in charge of the Edwardsville campus during its regular, scheduled meeting on the Carbondale campus.

Walker stepped into the role of interim vice chancellor for administration when former Chancellor Kent Napoléon retired in May 2016. Prior to serving in that role, he was provost at Saint Mary's University of Minnesota.

Walker has served in many leadership roles at SIU, including the provost role, which will be vacant when he steps into it. He also has a master's degree in finance from the University of New Mexico.

Walker earned his master's degree from the University of California at Berkeley and a bachelor's degree from Indiana State University.